

Northern Colorado
PERMACULTURE GUILD
presents

THE LITTLE RED HEN ACTION DAYS

Permaculture Designers John Anderson and Matt Fetissoff have teamed up to design a sustainable food forest at The Little Red Hen in north Fort Collins, and with the NoCo Permaculture Guild are hosting several fun & informative workshops! Here are the events:

JUNE

ROOF RUNOFF WORKSHOP #1

SAT 6/12/21 (9am–4pm): Join us for this hands-on workshop installing roof runoff diversion used to irrigate the new food forest! Lunch provided.

JULY

ANIMAL PASTURE FENCING

SAT 7/24/21 (9am–4pm): In this hands-on workshop we'll be improving pasture fencing to allow a balanced relationship between animal browsing and food forest protection! Lunch provided.

AUGUST

ROOF RUNOFF WORKSHOP #2

SAT 8/24/21 (9am–4pm): We will be finishing the roof runoff project as well as connecting to a city water supply to ensure drought tolerance! Lunch provided.

SEPTEMBER

FOOD FOREST PLANTING

SAT 9/18/21 (9am–4pm): Come help set up plants to nourish and sustain many lives in the food forest with mulberries, apples, currants, and nitrogen-fixing perennials! Lunch provided.

OCTOBER

WRAP-UP WORK DAY

SAT 10/16/21 (9am–4pm): Help us end the season strong, wrapping up projects in phase one, with a future project envisioning session! Lunch provided.

SEASON'S END CELEBRATION, YAY!

SUN 10/17/21 (2pm): Let's party! Potluck style! Music! Gifts!

RSVP
for the address!

SORRY, NO
DOGS ALLOWED.

To sign up, visit: tinyurl.com/littleredhenactiondays